

A Chat with Char #4

Rural 20th Century Photos and Newspapers to Obtain Genealogical Information on your Relatives

By: Char McCargo Bah

This is a continuation of last months chat on photos and newspapers. This chat will focus on the experience I gained in researching rural towns by using photographs and newspaper articles during the 20th century.

Some sources are:

- Homestead Attics
- Neighbors of your relatives
- Church pictures
- Local Museum
- Local Historical Societies
- Newspapers – Black and White
- State Archives

On Wednesday, January 9, 2008 at 9 p.m., “A Chat with Char” will discuss “Rural 20th Century Photos and Newspapers to Obtain Genealogical Information on your Relatives.”

Our discussion next month, February 2008, we will be discussing vital statistics. We will take a critical look at vital statistic information in urban cities.

Note: You can contact Char McCargo Bah at chrlb200@aol.com